The causes of homelessness are varied but are most likely the cause of trauma. Traumas can be including but not limited to domestic violence, eviction, and sexual assault. We are hoping to use the CPC funds to execute a feasibility study to define the plausibility of opening a shelter with housing for residents up to 3 years in Malden.

There was 3624 families in the MA Emergency Assistance shelter program on January 31, 2018. The need for shelter beyond emergency assistance is great.

PROJECT STATUS: (Please include what level of planning has already been undertaken to inform the proposal)

Feasibility Study Scope was defined and will include:

- *Identify properties large enough for 10-15 single rooms with attached bathrooms, and common areas
- *Identify problem properties that could be made into new construction
- *Cost estimate for work, including sketches and photographs to support the project estimate
- *Effect on local resources among others
